Phibro Animal Health

Outlook nutritious

Event

- Phibro reported FY14 results that delivered strong sales and earnings growth, albeit posting broadly short of our expectations. For the June-quarter, net sales posted at US$184m, up 12% YoY, with adj. EBITDA of US$24m, a 23% YoY increase. Pro forma Adj. EPS of US$0.22 fell short of our $0.32 est.
- Management posted guidance for FY15 for net sales of US$735-755m (Macq. US$742m), representing 6-9% sales growth, adj. EBITDA of $99-103m (Macq. US$104m), and adj. EPS of US$1.46-1.51 (Macq. US$1.51).
- All in, we maintain our Outperform rating and remain positive on the outlook.

Impact

- Animal Health segment continues to fire. Divisionally, the Animal Health segment posted sales and profit growth of 12% and 21%, respectively, during FY14 relative to FY13, benefitting from volume growth across all major products. Increased South American and Asian demand pushed improved MFA earnings, as demand from the US dairy industry supported greater nutritional specialty product volumes. In addition, the introduction of new products in several markets and volume growth across most major markets boosted Vaccine sales 21% YoY.
- Upside to guidance on improved margin setting. At the mid-point, guidance implies EBITDA margins at 13.6%, relative to our 14.1%, and up from 13.2% in FY14. We anticipate demand for animal vaccines and medicated feed additives to continue the recent steady sales growth, with our view of mid-teens earnings growth supported by emerging market expansions, further product penetration on strong branding and a lower cost base on an improved manufacturing footprint.
- Outlook remains compelling. Phibro's return profile remains compelling, with the firm well positioned to meaningfully boost its ROIC as improving profitability combines with a modest debt pay-down and an undemanding capital expenditure program. With an established footing in emerging markets, PAHC is well positioned to take advantage of emerging global growth opportunities in higher-growth regions as industrialised protein production becomes more prevalent. We model Phibro's ROIC improving from 6.4% in FY2013, to over 20% in 2016.

Earnings and target price revision

■ EPS changes: FY15E -2.8%, FY16E -2.2%.

Price catalyst

- 12-month price target: US$23.00 based on an EV/EBITDA methodology.
- Catalyst: 1Q FY15 earnings, further product penetration, pricing upticks.

Action and recommendation

We maintain our OP rating and US$23 target price. With an attractive return profile, a solid balance sheet, a cash flow outlook supporting the firm's growth objectives, combined with a modest valuation, we view the outlook as compelling.
